Monetta Young Investor Fund Partners With Munny Journey™

WHEATON, IL- April 2, 2009-The Monetta Young Investor Fund (www.younginvestorfund.com) NASDAQ: MYIFX has established a partnership with Munny Journey™ (www.munnyjourney.com), which offers a keepsake journal for a baby's first investments. The journal is designed to allow parents to compile a fascinating and comprehensive record of their child's financial journey through their first years.

"The "Munny Journey™" is a great addition to our age-based investment kits for the 1 to 7 year olds," says Bob Bacarella, Monetta's president. "It's both a keepsake journal and an educational tool to help parents get children started on the path to financial security."

The Munny Journey™ is a creation of Brad Dugdale, a veteran financial adviser and author of two books on personal finance. The journal is modeled after traditional baby books with two primary themes. The first is the keepsake theme, with pages dedicated to recording financial dreams and memories, such as baby's first dollar and first investment. The second theme organizes the journal into chapters, with easy to understand text about different investments and concepts, in a new and unique way. The journal's goal is to present the value of starting an investment plan early, illustrating the magic of compounding interest.

The Monetta Young Investor Fund is a no-load mutual fund that invests half of its portfolio in Exchange Traded Funds (ETF's) that track the S&P 500 Index combined with investments in large-cap growth companies that are recognized by most investors. The fund is designed to get kids involved in the investment process with an innovative portfolio structure, a financial literacy program and tuition discount credits that may be applied at over 225 colleges nationwide. The minimum initial investment is $100, with the establishment of a $25 monthly automatic investment plan.*
